

Tales and Trails

from the Storyteller's Garden,
Grasmere

At the heart of the English Lake District, by the side of the River Rothay, is a picturesque village which was once the home of the famous poet, William Wordsworth. That village is Grasmere, and at its heart there is a garden... a very special garden known as the Storyteller's Garden, for it is also the home of Taffy Thomas, the famous storyteller.

All tales and trails have to begin somewhere, and for all five stories and walks in this unique collection, that starting point is the Storyteller's Garden. From The Fairy Boots, set within the garden itself, to The King of the Birds which takes you high above the village to the rocky peaks of Helm Crag,

Tales and Trails
